Message

For Indian Football to grow at a substantial rate, it is important to take initiatives to bring all the relevant stakeholders of the football ecosystem in congruence and discuss about the future scope and feasibility of developmental activities contributing to Indian Football.

On behalf of All India Football Federation, I would like to commend Sportseed-Pro for taking this major step in bringing the football community under a single platform through the Global Soccer E Conclave 2020.

I wish them the best of luck in successfully conducting the event.

OKKULO

What is OKKULO?

The OKKULO system is game-changing technology geared towards making substantial individual and collective gains in performance that will translate into greater sporting success and improved results.

Our cutting-edge training system pioneers the innovative control of lighting to improve response times leading to enhanced performance and a tangible competitive advantage.

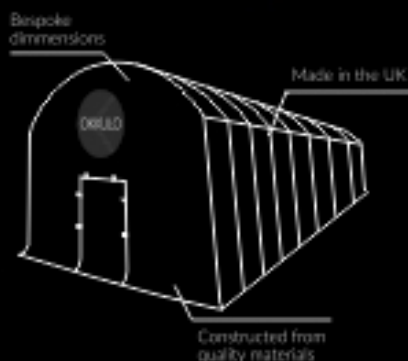

Particularly beneficial with fast-paced ball sports like football, cricket, tennis, baseball and basketball, OKKULO can help shave crucial milliseconds off sports requiring responses to fast-moving objects. We aim not merely to be innovative, but to be integral to the improvement of athletic capabilities.

Our system

The OKKULO system is a unique training environment in which the intensity and spectrum of the illumination is carefully controlled during training to enhance performance under normal illumination conditions.

The OKKULO environment can be created in almost any enclosed space with the possibility of both internal and external environments depending on the client's needs.

The system comprises of our unique lighting stacks, ball illumination technology, ball-delivery machine, the OKKULO goal-sensing technology, goal-sensing target boxes and OKKULO software that allows the coach to view the performance of the player in real time. Those data are then collated to build a unique OKKULO Score tracking performance over the duration of a player's career.

Mr. Daniel has worked for the past 10 years to advocate corporate social opportunity in sport.
